Erasmus+

In 2014 Bosnia and Herzegovina got an invitation and the opportunity to be part of this program: Erasmus+

B&H Government hesitated to take part as they questioned „profitability“ of the program because participation fee was several millions of EURO (for 7 year period).

A photograph of a group of young people at a protest. In the center, a woman with long blonde hair, wearing a grey fur-lined hood and a white knit scarf, is smiling broadly. To her right, another woman with long blonde hair, wearing a black beanie and a red turtleneck, looks off to the side. In the background, other people are visible, some holding protest signs. The overall atmosphere is one of active participation and solidarity.

How did Erasmus+ start @unsa

Students and staff members in several B&H's cities organized protests.

How did Erasmus+ start @unsa

Mutual cause united students from all universities in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

How did Erasmus+ start @unsa

The goal was achieved: Bosnia and Herzegovina became a part of this Erasmus+ family thanks to the efforts of the academic community – students and staff members together.

DESTINY

I think it was the destiny that gave me this opportunity and I am happy that I have used it. The worst part of my Erasmus+ experience at the University Della Marche in Ancona was that it ended and that you have to face with that it will not repeat again.

INTERNATIONAL

The master program I follow at the University of Poitiers is very international. Lecturers have exceptional world references. However, it is important to note that all students from this master's program have studied at least one semester abroad, and thus have further contributed to the internationalization of this program. On the other hand, one remarkable thing is a free French language course organized for those students who have at least B1 level of this wonderful, romantic, and finally international language.

ADVENTURE

Through Erasmus+ I have gained the opportunity to implement all my knowledge and skills from one semester spent at La Sapienza University of Rome. Do not hesitate to apply, there is nothing to lose, and much to gain and remember for the rest of your life.
